Today . . .

We stand as citizens in a world of affluence and poverty, concern and apathy, war and dreams of peace. We sing our songs and live our lives and we stand ready to shape the society we will rule.

Today . . .

Let us remember the excitement of a united spirit, the challenge of knowledge, the warmth of a smile, and the endless march of Time itself.

Let us remember what we have learned from what we remember.

ACTIVITIES

It is true, I never assisted the sun materially in its rising;
but, doubt not, it was of the last importance only to be present at it

SOPHOMORES

Every part of nature teaches that the passing away of one life is the making room for another. The oak dies down to the ground, leaving within its rind a rich virgin mould, which will impart a vigorous life to an infant forest.
